

BARGAINING REPORT
EVERYACTION/CWA BARGAINING

AUGUST 24, 2022

Fellow CWA Members,

Your CWA Bargaining Committee met once again today with the Company to discuss our questions about their incomplete wage proposals from Monday. We are still waiting for them to provide outstanding data around wages and healthcare, but they did provide more information than they had on Monday, and we were able to have some productive discussions today, including a counter proposal that we passed around Paid Time Off.

It is clear that the letter sent to Erin was effective. While we still have a lot of work to do, the Company realizes they need to bargain with us, and has begun scheduling more sessions. Further mobilization will likely be required to get more movement from the Company. So stay tuned and get involved!

We will next be meeting with the Company on Tuesday, August 30th.

If you have any questions or want to get more involved, please join us tomorrow, 8/25 at 6pm ET for our Mobilization Committee meeting.
